

PARTNERSHIP FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

MAY 7-13, 2017

PSRW.ORG

America loves heroes and our nation is fortunate to have an abundance of them. But many of these heroes never appear on the evening news or on the cover of a magazine. They quietly serve our country with steadfast commitment and selfless duty to help others.

You might see them in your community. Some are firefighters and police officers, teachers and social workers. Many others work behind the scenes in central offices or at remote research facilities or border crossings. Some work to prevent terrorist attacks or stop identity theft. Others care for our veterans or develop breakthrough medical treatments. Wherever they work or what they do, what they have in common is their patriotic service to improve the health, safety and welfare of our great country.

As we work to make government more effective and efficient, it is also important to recognize and support the people who serve and the value they deliver every day. Public Service Recognition Week (May 7-13, 2017) is time set aside to honor the women and men who serve our nation as federal, state, county and local government employees. We celebrate this week to promote excellence in government service and invite you to join us in saying thank you to these public service heroes.
